The USACM Liquidating Trust, as post-confirmation successor to USA Commercial Mortgage Company, hereby advises the Court pursuant to its request at the hearing conducted on May 31, 2007, with respect to the pending fee applications:

Mesirow Financial Interim Management

The Trust extensively analyzed the application for compensation filed by Mesirow Financial Interim Management, LLC. A number of areas of concern were raised during the review of the application. The Trust immediately sought to engage the other post-confirmation constituencies and Mesirow in a constructive dialogue to avoid the extraordinary expense and delay involved in prosecution of objections to Mesirow's fee application. At the same time, the Trust had its professionals research the facts and law and draft an objection to the application so that the details of the concerns could be addressed with specificity. Geoffrey L. Berman, Trustee of the USACM Trust, personally took these concerns to creditor constituencies and then took the consensus of the creditors to Mesirow, in a sincere effort to resolve the necessity of filing an objection. The parties agreed to continue the deadline for objections to fees, and Mesirow and Mr. Berman met personally in Los Angeles and New York, and were involved in a number of telephone conferences, ultimately reaching a proposed settlement. That compromise is reflected in Mesirow's supplement filed on June 6, 2007 at Docket No. 3902. The Trust believes that the compromise reached effectively addresses the concerns that the Trust found in that application.

Other Professionals

The Trust reviewed independently the final fee applications of Ray Quinney & Nebeker, P.C., Schwartzer & McPherson, and Kirkpatrick & Lockhart, Preston Gates Ellis LLP. These professionals employed by USACM seek compensation from the USACM estate. The Trust also reviewed the application of Gordon & Silver, which is paid from the USACM estate. The Trust is satisfied that the 2% fee reduction negotiated with the assistance of, among others, the office of the United States Trustee, along with RQN's withdrawal of its request for a fee enhancement, addresses the concerns that the Trust found in those applications.

The concessions offered by all the professionals in these cases provide significant, tangible benefit to the creditors of the various estates, as set forth in the following table:

23 ⁵ The Trust spent in excess of 125 hours of DSI time in reviewing the professionals' fee
24 applications and in negotiating the Mesirow compromise. The Trust incurred about 180
25 hours of Lewis and Roca time reviewing the fee applications and preparing the Mesirow 26 objection. The Trust incurred additional time with Diamond McCarthy attorneys identifying issues concerning Mesirow's performance. The Trust believes that all of this expense was well justified in the savings to creditors of all of the estates, both in actual dollars being withdrawn from consideration for payment and the cost of the professionals not spent in filing and arguing the objections had such been filed.
